

IHM Fellowship programme

MSc Global Healthcare Management

Senior Leaders Master's Degree

We're delighted the IHM is enhancing its accredited offer with Coventry University, with whom we are partnering on a Masters in Global Healthcare Management, also leading to IHM Fellowship.

The IHM has always had a reputation for education and personal development and this new opportunity puts us right back where we want to be; recognising the past and taking the best of it into the future. We want you to be part of that journey with us.

However, we're very conscious of the fact education isn't free and money is tight; this is why we have decided to take advantage of a Government scheme and offer the learning under the auspices of the Apprenticeship Levy.

This particular scheme is called the Senior Leaders Master's Degree Apprenticeship, and the funding comes from the surcharge most NHS employers are obliged to pay for staff development.

So, you may qualify to have your fees paid... good news and we hope you qualify!

This programme is collaboratively and specifically designed around healthcare leadership and management, and will provide you with enhanced practical skills and theoretical knowledge to take you to the next stage in your career. The IHM has access to the best senior leaders in the NHS and around the world, so alongside Coventry University's expertise in healthcare leadership and management, we know you'll be gaining more than just a Master's degree.

Thank you for supporting of the IHM; look out for more exciting developments and we'll look out for you on the first cohort and be there when you when become a Fellow of the IHM and a senior leader of the future.

Best Wishes

Roy Lilley and Paul Conroy
