

Recommended Reads – week ending 2nd October 2020

News you may have missed...

- Guardian: UK failing to use its high Covid test capacity efficiently, study shows
- NHE: Matt Hancock announces new National Genomic Healthcare Strategy
- Gov UK: New recruitment drive to help 10,000 people with serious mental illness
- Gov.Scot: £1.1b for health and social care sector
- Daily Mail: A MILLION women miss vital breast screening
- Gov.Scot: Scottish Health Survey 2019 published
- BBC News: Coronavirus: Delirium 'key symptom' in frail older people
- Pharmaceutical Journal: Government tightens availability of remdesivir treatment for COVID-19 patients as supplies shrink

Recommended Reads

- NHSE: Dementia wellbeing in the COVID-19 pandemic
- NHS Confed: Covid-19 and the Health and Care Workforce - Supporting Our Greatest Asset
- Nuffield Trust: Digital and face-to-face consultations: finding the right balance
- DW: How coronavirus brought Spain's health care system to its knees
- NHS Confed: NHS RESET: A NEW DIRECTION FOR HEALTH AND CARE
- PHE: Screening text message principles
- Alzheimer's Society: Worst hit: dementia during coronavirus
- Patients Association: Pandemic Patient Experience
- Health Foundation: Top-down clarity, bottom-up agency: fading freedoms or here to stay?
- Health Foundation: Level or not? Comparing general practice in areas of high and low socioeconomic deprivation in England
- ONS: Our plans for running Census 2021 in the time of coronavirus
- Management in Practice: Practices asked to align business continuity plans with local pharmacies in event of temporary closure